Alan Burns

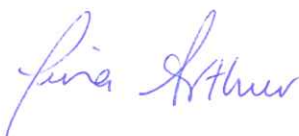

In 2009 I decided that I needed to get my financial affairs organized. I'm self-employed so I know that my future security is in my own hands.

Through a friend's recommendation I made an appointment with Alan Burns. Within seconds of meeting Alan I felt at ease with him and I knew that he could relate to my circumstances. He's up with the play, not at all stuffy and I love his style and personality.

I feel that Alan takes a real interest in me and that we have a partnership to manage my financial health. He always explains things clearly, he's available if I have questions and he continuously reviews the work that he does for me.

Red is a small, boutique company where Alan is backed up by a great team. Claire & Sam were so helpful when I needed to make a claim. They kept in touch and did all the follow up work; I never needed to chase them up.

I recommend Alan proudly and with confidence knowing that not only will a business relationship be forged but also a friendship that goes beyond the life of my 'life insurance'.
